Description

Short version: LootScoot is a competitive third-person game inspired by the classic game of cops and robbers. In each match, thieves must complete their heist objectives before the police catch them, while the cops do everything they can to stop the crime. Strategy and intense chases define every encounter.

Long version: LootScoot is a competitive third-person game inspired by the classic game of cops and robbers.

In each match, players are divided into two teams: cops and thieves, with support for up to 12 players on each side.

The thieves' objective is to rob establishments and deliver the money to designated drop-off points. They win if they manage to steal and deliver the required amount before time runs out. Meanwhile, the cops must prevent the crime by capturing thieves and slowing their progress until the match ends.

When captured, thieves are temporarily taken out of action but return to the game after a short time, or being saved by another thief. To succeed, they must use agility, escape skills, and clever tactics to outsmart the cops, often blending in with NPCs to avoid detection.

At the same time, the cops need to stay alert, use their abilities to neutralize criminals, and lock them up. Strategy, high-speed chases, and quick decisions define every encounter in LootScoot.

Visual Style

LootScoot features a vibrant, stylized cartoon visual style with exaggerated characters, expressive animations, and a fun, humorous tone that brings the cops-and-robbers chase to life.

- Cartoon / Cartoonish
Characters have exaggerated and expressive features, reminiscent of animated cartoons.
- Colorful and Vibrant
Saturated and contrasting colors that draw attention and bring energy to the scene.
- Stylized
Not realistic; exaggerated proportions and simple shapes.

About the team

A group of friends brought together by a shared dream: to create unforgettable experiences and memorable moments for players of all ages.

Minor 54, though a young studio, combines the creativity and energy of fresh talent with the experience of developers who have been in the gaming industry for years.

Our work is driven by a passion for games that entertain, connect people, and spark imagination. Distance is never an obstacle: with team members in both Brazil and Canada, we collaborate intensely every day, always striving to exceed expectations and deliver quality in every project.

Every game we create reflects our development philosophy: player-focused design, innovation, and fun above all. LootScoot is just the beginning of a journey full of challenges and achievements, and we can't wait to share every step with our community.
